James Fuentes Gallery	Visual Identity, Website
Philip Guston Foundation	Website, Custom Typeface
Poetry Society of America	Signage
Poetry Society of America	Booklet
Yale School of Art	Website

Independent

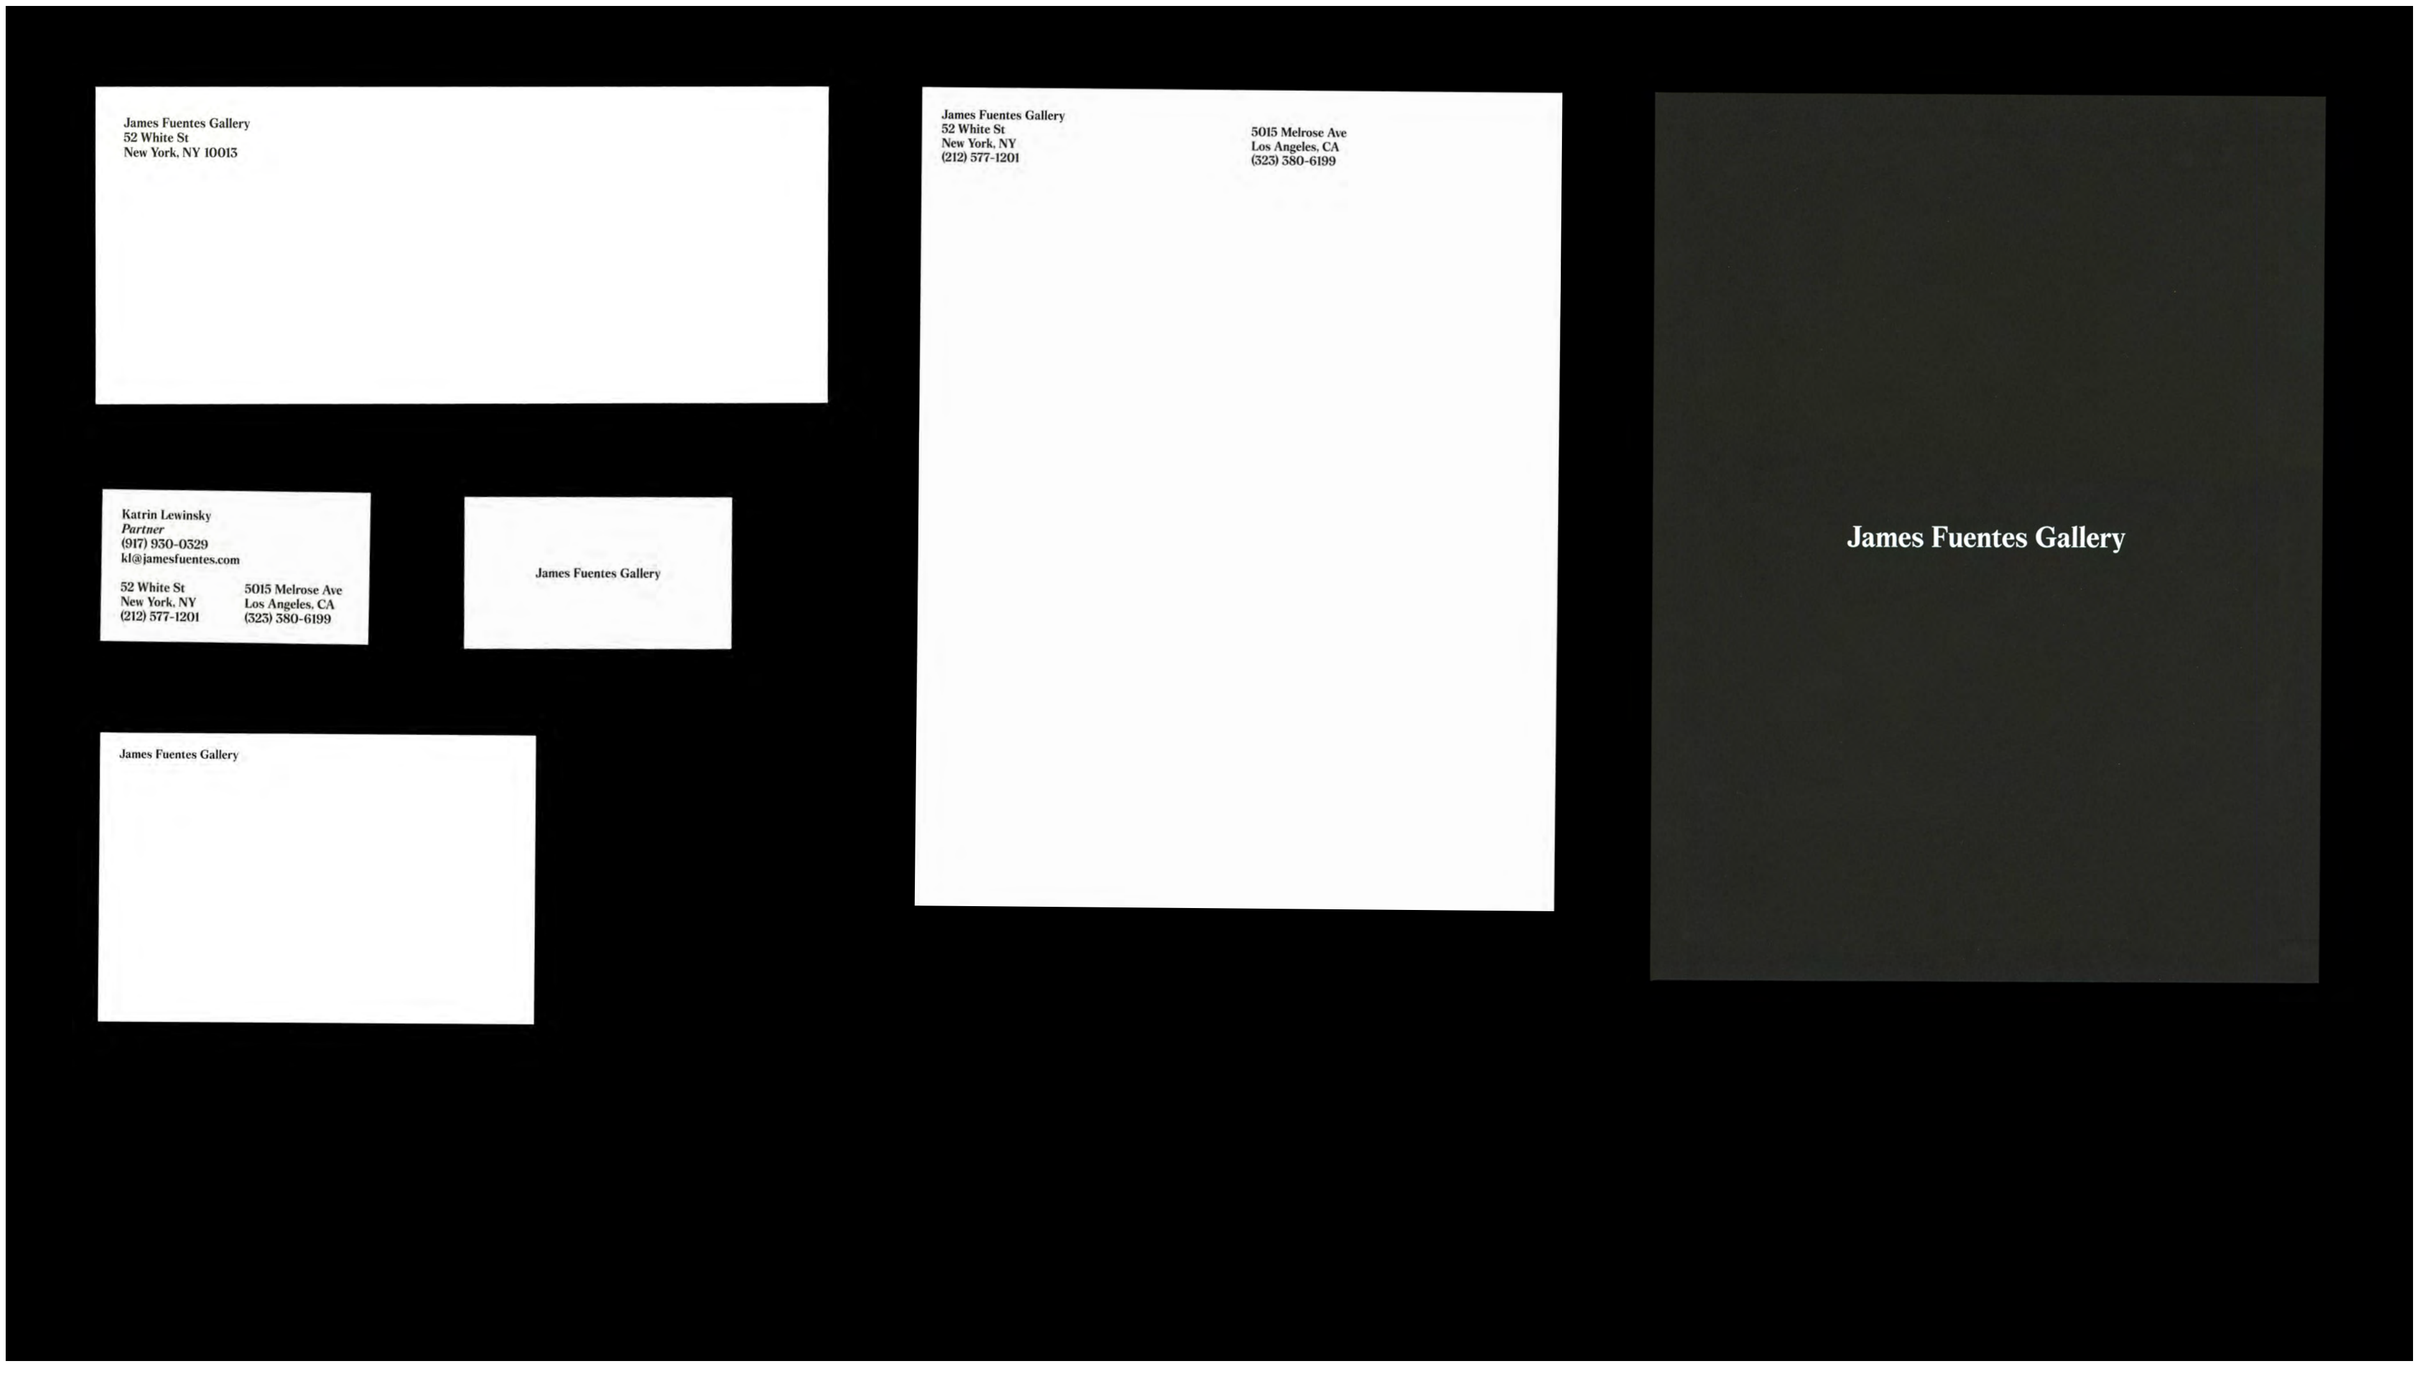

Shade Sport	Art Direction, Visual Identity
Yale School of Art Photography	Exhibiton Identity
Fresa Salvaje	Poster Series
University of Colorado Denver	Conference Identity
Yale School of Art Sculpture	Exhibition Identity

Visual Identity
With Other Means as Senior Designer
Website, Stationary, Social Media, Signage

James Fuentes Gallery has championed contemporary artists atypical from the conventions of their field since 2007. Alongside its exhibitions in New York and Los Angeles, the gallery produces original publications through James Fuentes Press.

Other Means designed the gallery’s identity by expanding the typographic system developed for those publications across all of the gallery’s communications.

Lola Stong-Brett
James Fuentes Gallery
52 White Street
52 White Street
James Fuentes Gallery

James Fuentes Gallery
52 White St
New York, NY 10013
Katrin Lewinsky
Partner
(917) 930-0329
kl@jamesfuentes.com
52 White St
New York, NY
(212) 577-1201
5015 Melrose Ave
Los Angeles, CA
(323) 380-6199
James Fuentes Gallery
James Fuentes Gallery
52 White St
New York, NY
(212) 577-1201
5015 Melrose Ave
Los Angeles, CA
(323) 380-6199
James Fuentes Gallery
James Fuentes Gallery

by John McAllister
Blackbird Spyplane

sun sundry beguiles wild
Jonah Weiner

John McAllister's landscapes are a strange, vibrating, overwhelming kind of beautiful. They feel less like real depictions of places than hyperreal ones, which makes sense, because they bear no straightforward relationship to any actual place on earth that McAllister has ever been or seen. The paintings spring from his mind on the fly.

McAllister lives in western Massachusetts. He hikes in the Berkshires, not far from his home, and he rides a bike up in Vermont, but he has no interest in making pictures when he's in nature. He doesn't work en plein air, carrying paints and canvases with him. He doesn't even snap photos to consult later on. His phone gets in the way of looking, so it stays in his pocket. When he's back in his studio, "it's important for me to divorce myself from nature entirely, to where I don't hold myself up to it," he tells me. There's nothing on his studio walls — no tacked-up reference imagery to check his description of a flower against the genuine article. "It's an entirely different form to be a mirror to nature than to reflect the effects of nature on a person," he says. "And I'm much more interested in the affected mind, in the sensation of a landscape, than how it actually looks."

It's something like Phenomenological Landscape Painting. McAllister will find himself conjuring, say, a forest clearing. Its perspective lines, if you try to chart them, will not necessarily add up. "A flower, a leaf, they're really forgiving in terms of scale and proportion, so you can do all kinds of bizarre things with perspective," McAllister says. "It can make no sense and feel good at the same time, and that's also part of what stops me in nature: When things don't make sense. It's that reaction of, I understand this, but it's off-kilter, and there's a pleasure in that kind of awkwardness."

McAllister's colors do not make strict literal sense, either, but they are full of pleasure, too. He might frame his clearing, impossibly, with blue leaves and creamsicle-orange flowers, throbbing under pink and yellow skies. He negotiates between Monet pastels and borderline-garish Miami Beach hues, rendering woodland scenes with tropical and almost chemical palettes. One of his gifts is that he never tips into grotesquerie or abject kitsch. "It's about edging up to corniness — you get near Miami, but you stay in Provence," he says. "I like artificial colors in a natural setting, because for me, it's always about choosing the thing that extends itself beyond the ordinary. All this artificiality presents opulence, and then you can soften it all, so it's soft and inviting and chaotic at the same time. I always think about how something corny can make ablaze rapt chorus beaming, 2025 oil on canvas, 108 × 168 inches (previous) teaming serene dazzled dreamy, 2025

3

oil on canvas, 50 × 44 inches

12

13

sun sundry beguiles wild

Jonah Weiner

John McAllister's landscapes are a strange, vibrating, overwhelming kind of beautiful. They feel less like real depictions of places than hyperreal ones, which makes sense, because they bear no straightforward relationship to any actual place on earth that McAllister has ever been or seen. The paintings spring from his mind on the fly.

McAllister lives in western Massachusetts. He hikes in the Berkshires, not far from his home, and he rides a bike up in Vermont, but he has no interest in making pictures when he's in nature. He doesn't work en plein air, carrying paints and canvases with him. He doesn't even snap photos to consult later on. His phone gets in the way of looking, so it stays in his pocket. When he's back in his studio, "it's important for me to divorce myself from nature entirely, to where I don't hold myself up to it," he tells me. There's nothing on his studio walls — no tacked-up reference imagery to check his description of a flower against the genuine article. "It's an entirely different form to be a mirror to nature than to a forest clearing. Its perspective chart them, will not necessarily leaf, they're really forgiving in proportion, so you can do all kin with perspective," McAllister sa sense and feel good at the same part of what stops me in nature make sense. It's that reaction o

but it's off-kilter, and there's a p of awkwardness."

McAllister's colors do not sense, either, but they are full might frame his clearing, imp leaves and creamsicle-orange under pink and yellow skies. He Monet pastels and borderline-g hues, rendering woodland scen almost chemical palettes. One he never tips into grotesqueri
"It's about edging up to cornir
Miami, but you stay in Proven

James Fuentes Gallery
Artists, Exhibitions, Fairs, Publications, Contact

On View

Lola Stong-Brett
Sometime Somewhere Someone Is Dancing
Jun 26–Aug 7, 2026
52 White St, New York

Upcoming Exhibitions

Susan Te Kahurangi King
The Page Before Me
Aug 1–Sep 12, 2026
5015 Melrose Ave, Los Angeles

Locations

New York
52 White St
New York, NY 10013
(212) 577-1201

Monday–Friday
10 AM–6 PM

Los Angeles
5015 Melrose Ave
Los Angeles, CA 90038
(323) 380-6199
Parking lot at rear

The Los Angeles gallery is currently closed and will reopen in August.

James Fuentes Gallery
Artists, Exhibitions, Fairs, Publications, Contact

On View

Lola Stong-Brett
Sometime Somewhere Someone Is Dancing
Jun 26–Aug 7, 2026
52 White St, New York

Upcoming Exhibitions

Susan Te Kahurangi King
The Page Before Me
Aug 1–Sep 12, 2026
5015 Melrose Ave, Los Angeles

James Fuentes is pleased to present Lola Stong-Brett, Sometime Somewhere Someone Is Dancing, the artist's first solo exhibition in New York. Born in London and shaped in recent years by life in the seaside town of Margate, in this new body of work Stong-Brett introduces the ocean as both setting and metaphor: at once a physical landscape of rhythm, depth, and horizon, and a reflection of the emotional currents that shape our everyday lives.

Working at a scale that envelops the body, Stong-Brett's mark-making is deeply diaristic. Cartoon-like figures emerge from fields of heightened gestural abstraction, recording fleeting, inner states to form an entwined visual shorthand of expression. Across the paintings, figures intertwine, drift apart, cling to one another, or reach beyond each other's grasp. With great emotional immediacy, the works evoke the complex, shifting choreography of human connection—the experience of

Locations

New York
52 White St
New York, NY 10013
(212) 577-1201

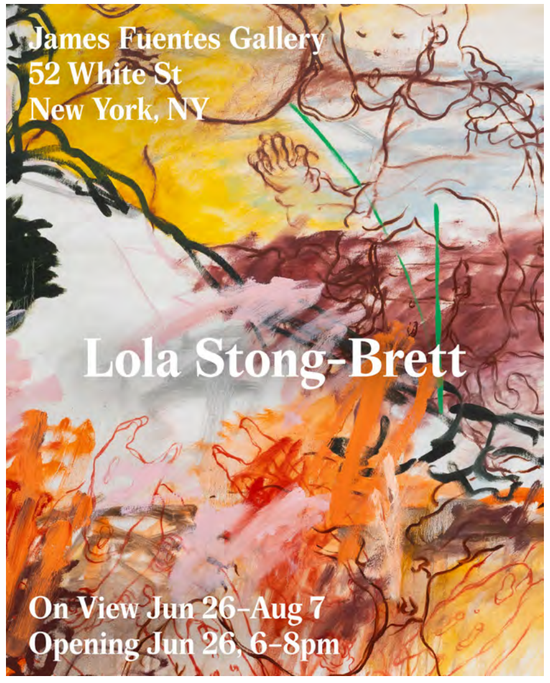

Monday–Friday
10 AM–6 PM

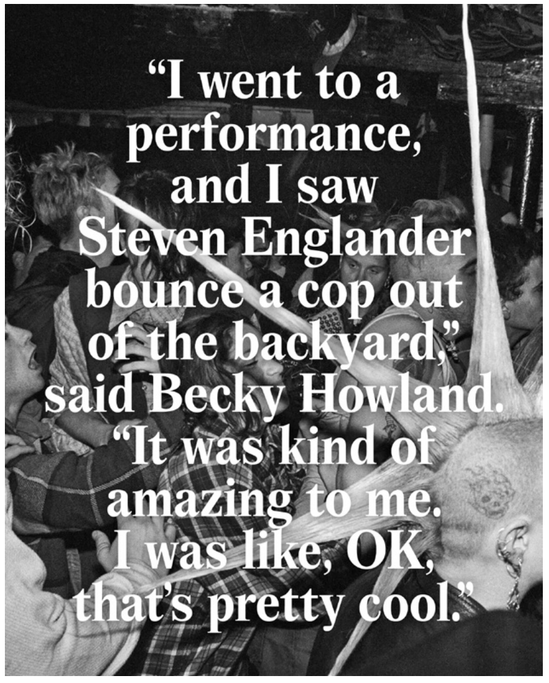

Lola Stong-Brett
On Stage Where You Once Danced, 2026
Oil on canvas
2 panels, 84 in. 1 3/4 × 130 inches

Los Angeles
5015 Melrose Ave
Los Angeles, CA 90038
(323) 380-6199
Parking lot at rear

The Los Angeles gallery is currently closed and will reopen in August.

Nausea performs at ABC No Rio in 1991.
Photo: Chris Boarts Larson

Catalogue Raisonné
With Other Means as Senior Designer
Website, Typeface Design Direction

The Guston Foundation is dedicated to promoting awareness of the 20th Century painter Philip Guston (1913–1980) within the art world and to the public through educational information and the direct experience of his art.

Other Means designed the foundation's Catalogue Raisonné, which documents every known artwork Guston made through an illustrated chronology, annotated exhibition images, and robust filtering and sorting. We worked with Maximillian Inzinger to develop a custom typeface for the project, based on the typography of Guston's early exhibition invites, with alternates drawn from his handwriting.

AaaBbCcDdEeFfff
GGggHhIiJjKKkkLIl
MmNnOoPpQQqRRr
SsTttUuuVvWWw
wXxYyZz
“012¾5×6⅞9@!:.,?”

P.G. Life and Work Catalogue Raisonné The Guston Foundation

Philip Guston
Catalogue Raisonné

Artwork Exhibitions Museum Collections Bibliography

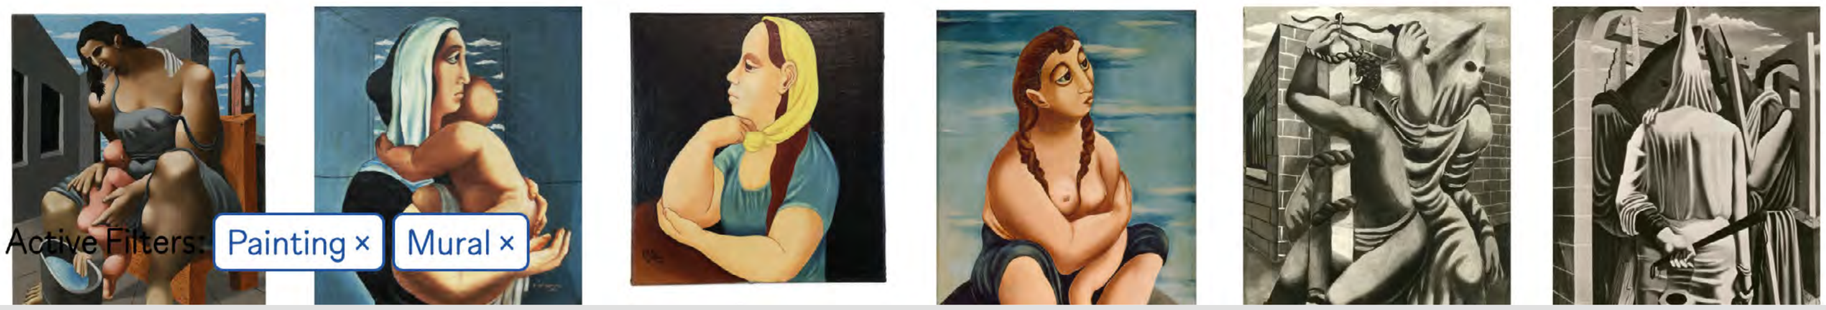

Search: by artwork title, catalogue number

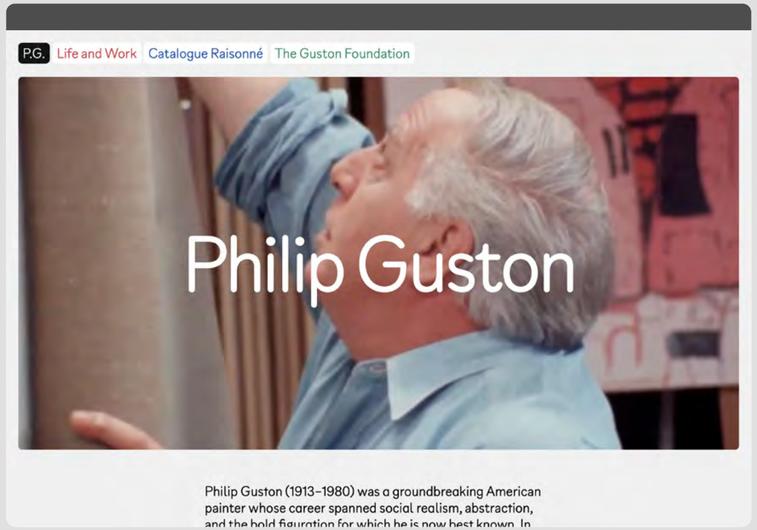

Date Range: Start Year – End Year

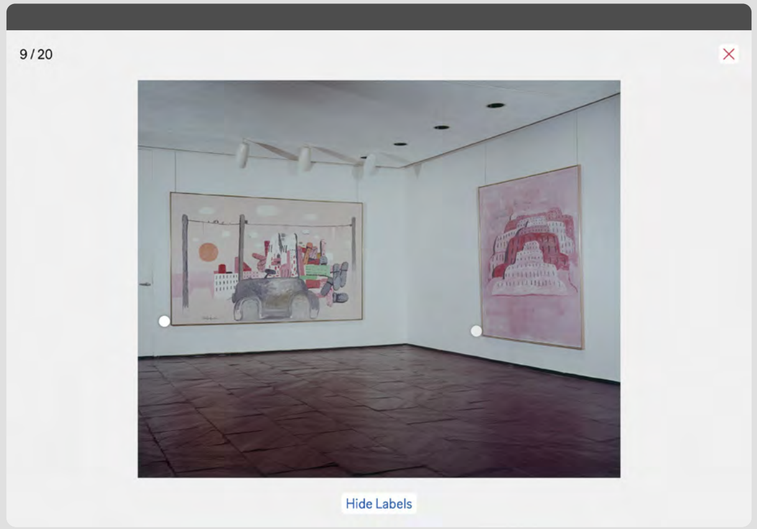

Filter: Time Period Artwork Type Medium Themes Active Filters: Painting × Mural ×

View: List , Grid (Small) , Grid (Large) , Scale Sort: Date Ascending ↓, Date Descending ↑

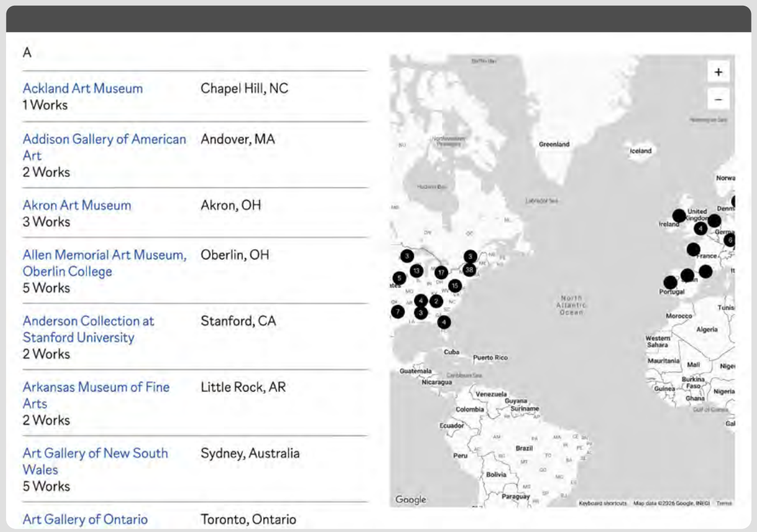

Submission Form, Guide to Entries, Photographers, About the Catalogue Raisonné

P.G. Life and Work Catalogue Raisonné The Guston Foundation
Philip Guston
Philip Guston (1913–1980) was a groundbreaking American painter whose career spanned social realism, abstraction, and the bold figuration for which he is now best known. In

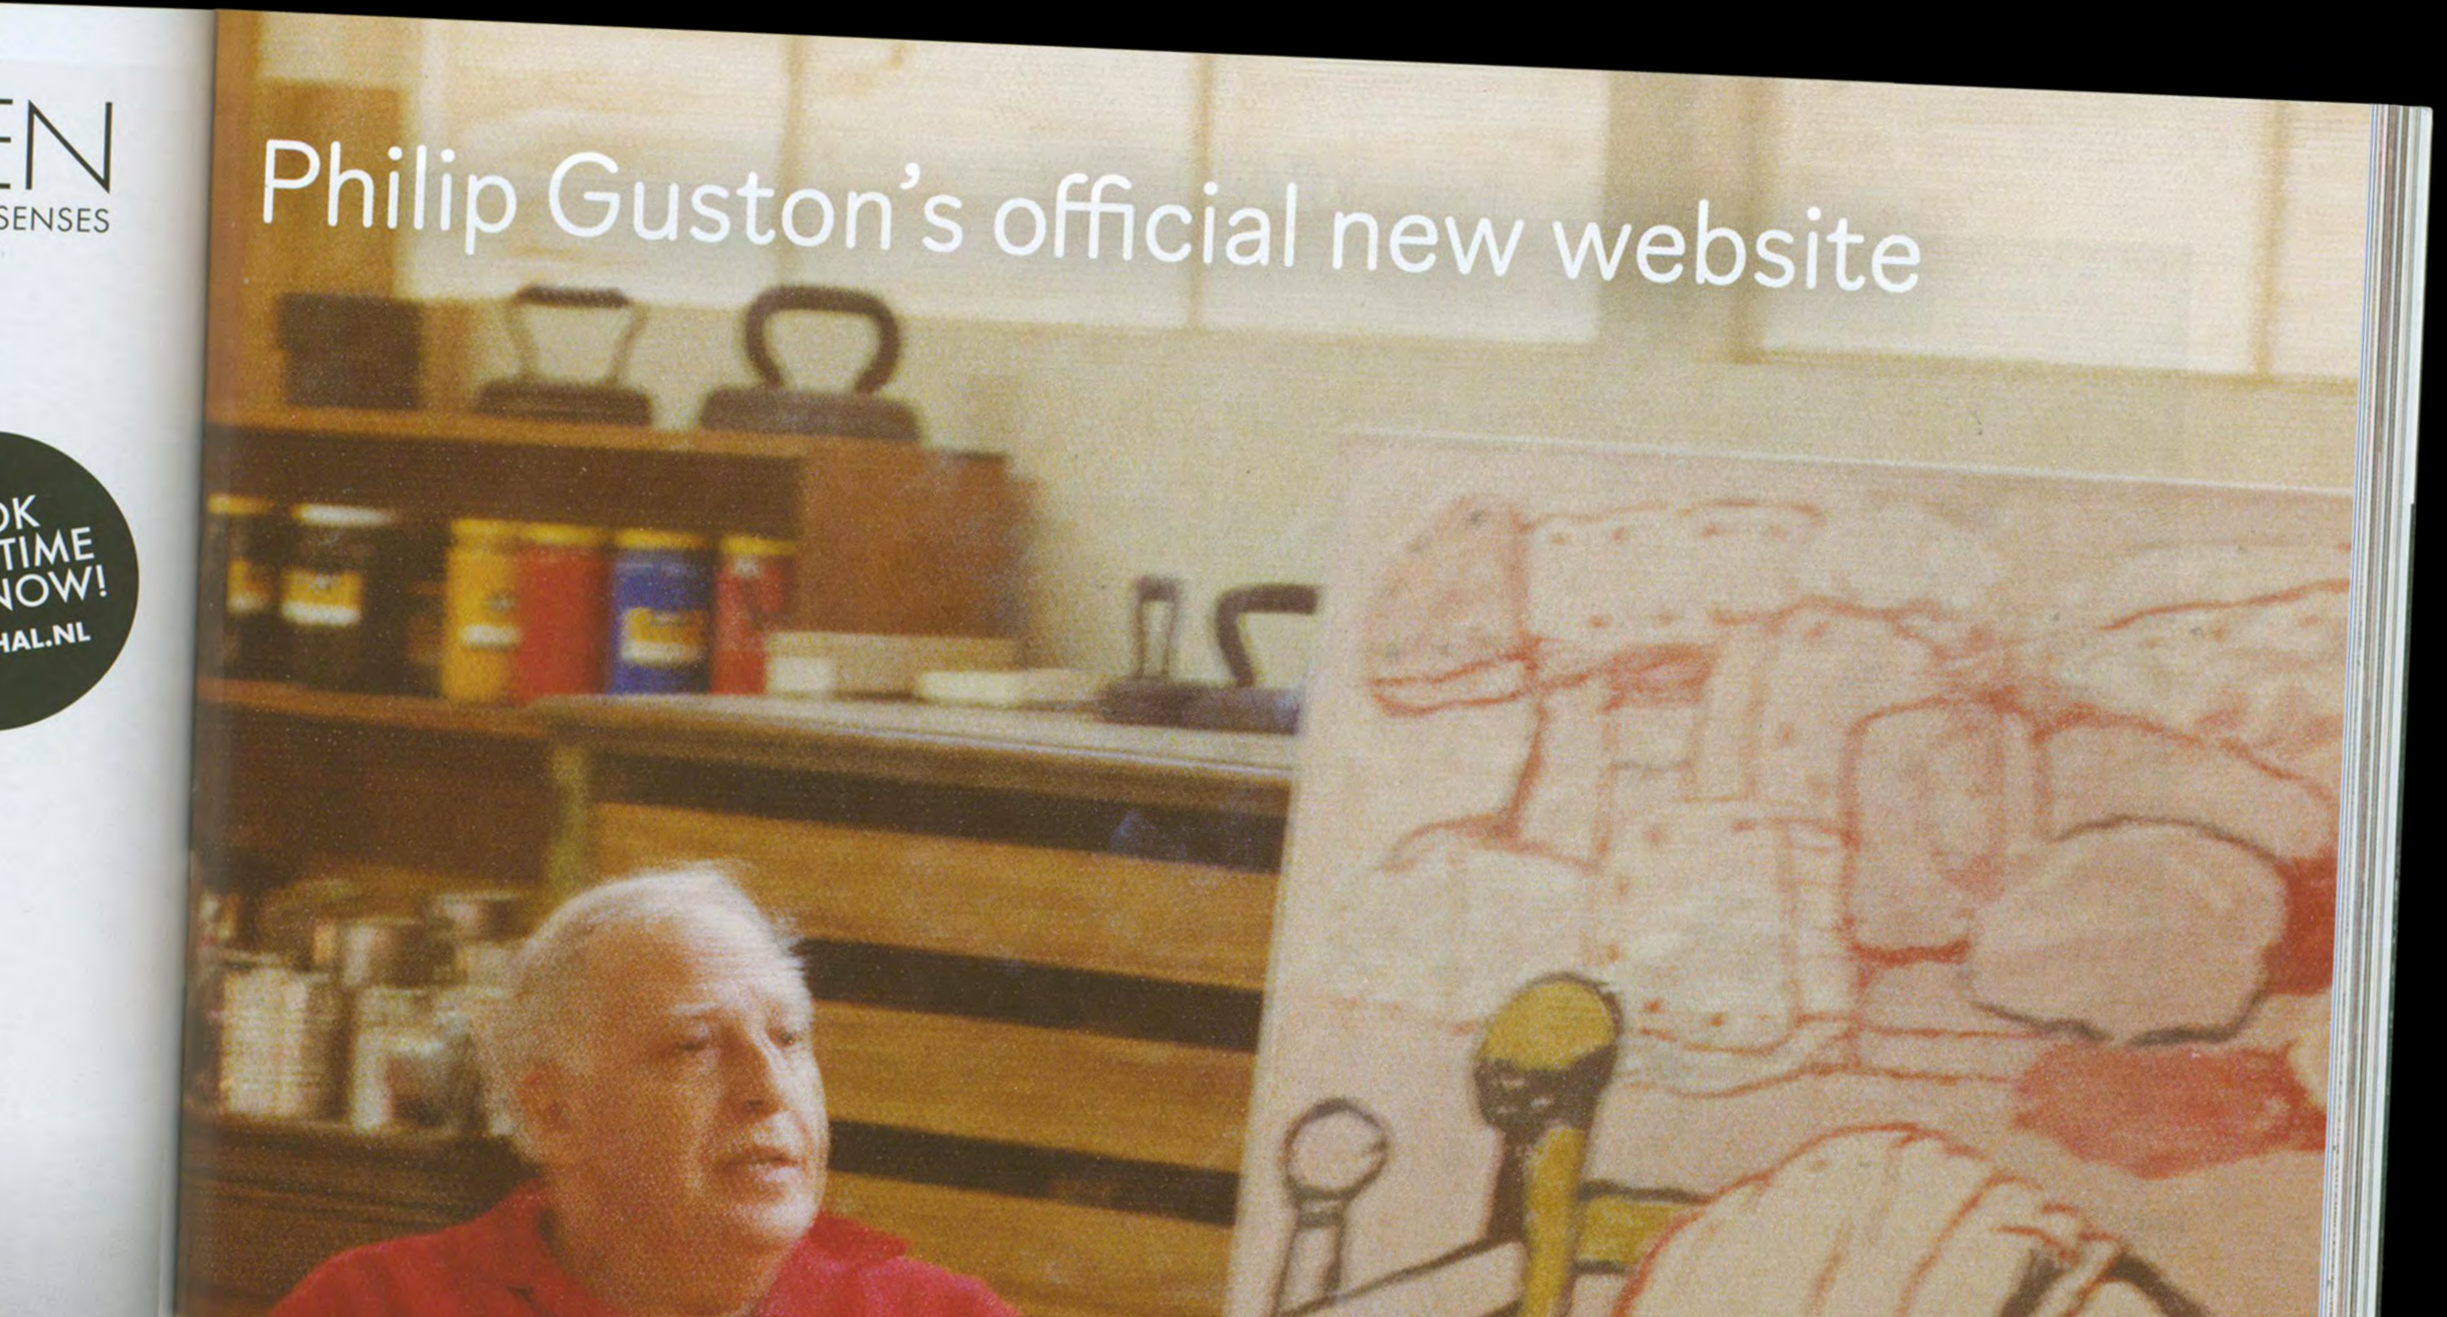

9 / 20
Hide Labels

Rome Garden, 1971

A
Ackland Art Museum
1 Works
Chapel Hill, NC
Addison Gallery of American Art
2 Works
Andover, MA
Akron Art Museum
3 Works
Akron, OH
Allen Memorial Art Museum, Oberlin College
5 Works
Oberlin, OH
Anderson Collection at Stanford University
2 Works
Stanford, CA
Arkansas Museum of Fine Arts
2 Works
Little Rock, AR
Art Gallery of New South Wales
5 Works
Sydney, Australia
Art Gallery of Ontario
Toronto, Ontario
Greenland
Iceland
Norway
Ireland
France
Portugal
Morocco
Algeria
Cuba
Puerto Rico
Guatemala Nicaragua
Venezuela
Colombia
Guyana
Suriname
Ecuador
Peru
Brazil
Bolivia
Paraguay Mauritania
Mali
Guinea
Burkina Faso
Ghana
Nigeria
Google

P.G. Life and Work Catalogue Raisonné The Guston Foundation
1950–1959
Abstraction

EN
SENSES
OK TIME
NOW!
HAL.NL
Philip Guston's official new website

Celestial Summer
With Other Means as Senior Designer
Outdoor Signage, 3D Design

The Poetry Society of America places poetry at the crossroads of American life. To celebrate the gift of a moon tree to Madison Square Park, the Society partnered with the park to place a series of poems around it.

Other Means designed the signage for the poems. We designed both the sign faces and sign posts and managed the fabrication process.

QUARTET Kevin Young
I am tired of this place & want to take a slow train to the moon—
Just jump the rails out past the pale peeling walls of this here room.
I feel like a dog that done lost his tail,
& keeps barking: soon? so soon?
Lay down outstretched among hail
& fallen stars, the rain's raggy tune.

A BELL JAR
Sandra Lim
There's vanity in thinking that existential panic is very intelligent.
But I want days off from my regular life—
from selfhood, night thoughts. The sun, the moon.
I refuse to express things for a little while,
as a cloud holds a shower. There's a room without a door.
There are different ways to enter into one's nature.
Let the world have its own life,
I'll have mine. We can feel each other naming things over the vegetable universe.
© 2025 by Sandra Lim, first published in Kismet, from The Givens, used by permission of The Wylie Agency LLC. Poem selected by the Poetry Society of America. Design by Other Means.

HUMMINGBIRDS
Campbell McGrath
The moon, the ocean—some things never change.
At first the hummingbirds shared the feeder
but then some began to chase the others away, keeping all the sugar water for themselves.
The baby calls the rainbow a rainbow and the lighthouse a nighthouse.
Who could question the full moon
for seeking to guide us
across the ocean on a path of wavering golden light?
Some things never change. And then they do.
Originally published in The New Yorker. All rights reserved. Poem selected by the Poetry Society of America. Design by Other Means.

Poetry Society of America

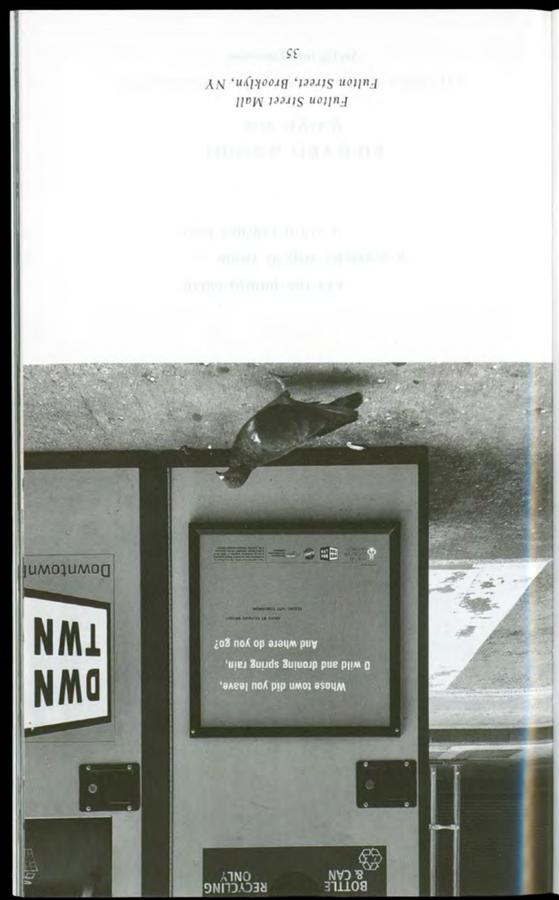

Celestial Summer: Signage (Back)

More Poems More Places
With Other Means as Senior Designer
Booklet

The Poetry Society of America (PSA) places poetry at the crossroads of American life.

Other Means designed More Poems More Places, a tête-bêche booklet sharing PSA's most recent public programs. It is printed on C1S paper, with images on the coated side and text on the uncoated side, so it reads in one direction as a picture book and in the other as a chapbook.

More Poems
Poetry Society of America

Seeing into Tomorrow

HAIKU #69
RICHARD WRIGHT

Whose town did you leave,
O wild and droning spring rain,
And where do you go?

From Haiku: The Last Poems of an American Icon.
Copyright © 1998, 2012 by Ellen Wright.
Reprinted with the permission of Arcade Publishing.

From Eye Level. Copyright © 2018 by author.
Reprinted by permission of The Permissions Company, LLC,
on behalf of Graywolf Press, graywolfpress.org.

ORIGIN STORY
JENNY XIE

I was profligate like a floodlight to the sun.

Hoarded saccharine and toothmarks, wanted only the thickest rhymes, two of each.

Full I was of promises I never intended to keep:
puckered laughter, lines to feast.

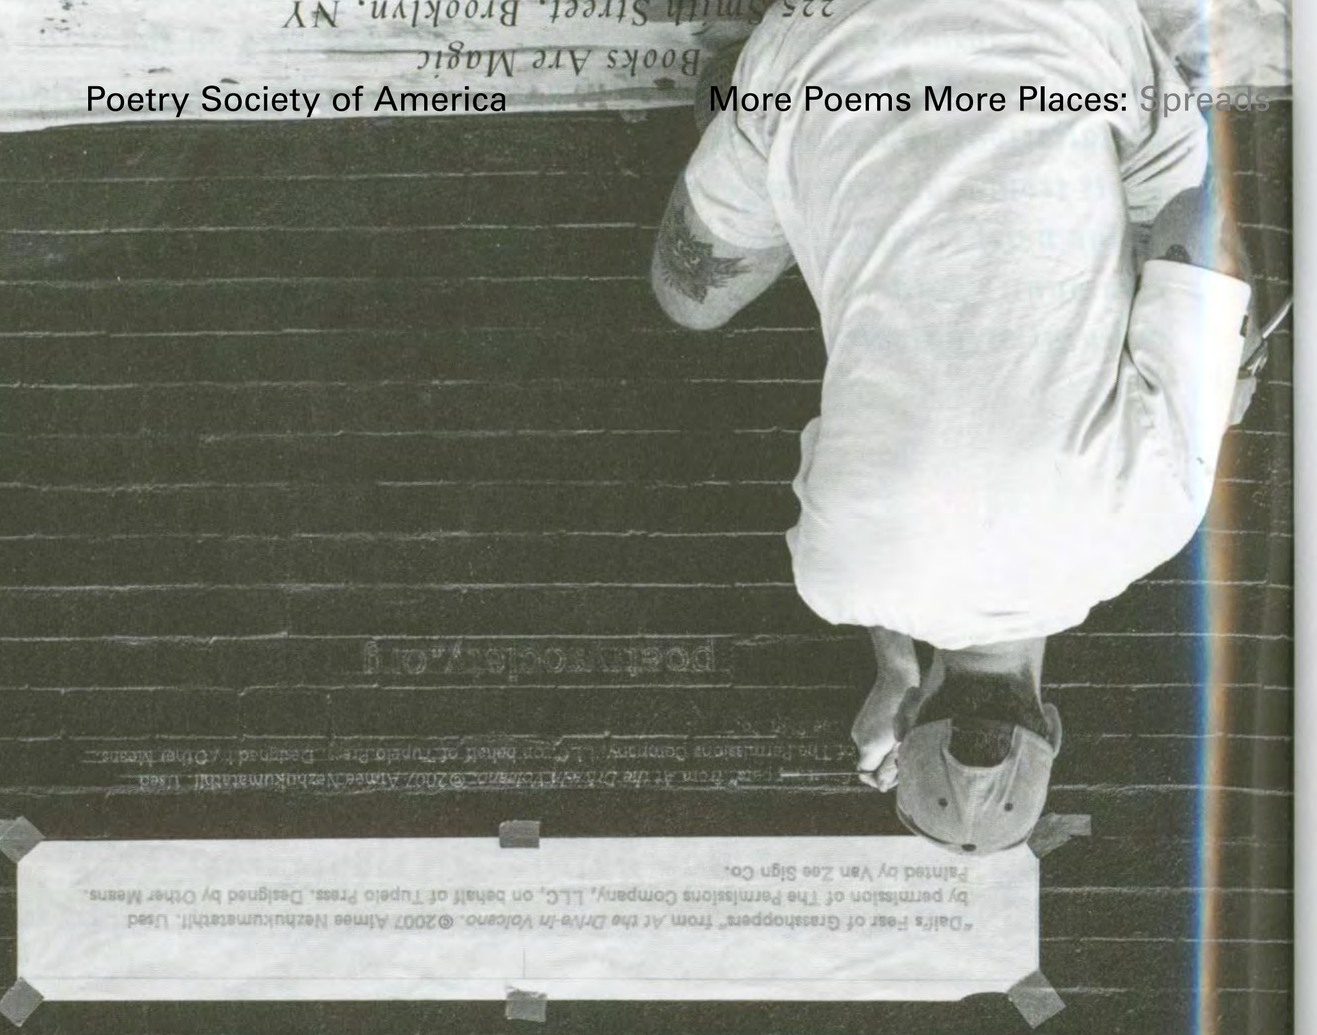

I let everyone who entered my life enter through me.
Demanded nonsense love and bodies that would ring.

Not to mention higher kilowatts of creeping joy, more red in everything—

Poetry in Motion

3 Train
Bronx to Brooklyn

DALÍ'S FEAR OF GRASSHOPPERS

AIMEE NEZHUKUMATATHIL

A little nymph trapped in a bean
soup. I want to eat
all the jumping.

Website
With Other Means as Senior Designer
University Website

The Yale School of Art is the first art school affiliated with a university of higher learning in the United States. It is rooted in tradition and history while pushing the boundaries of art education.

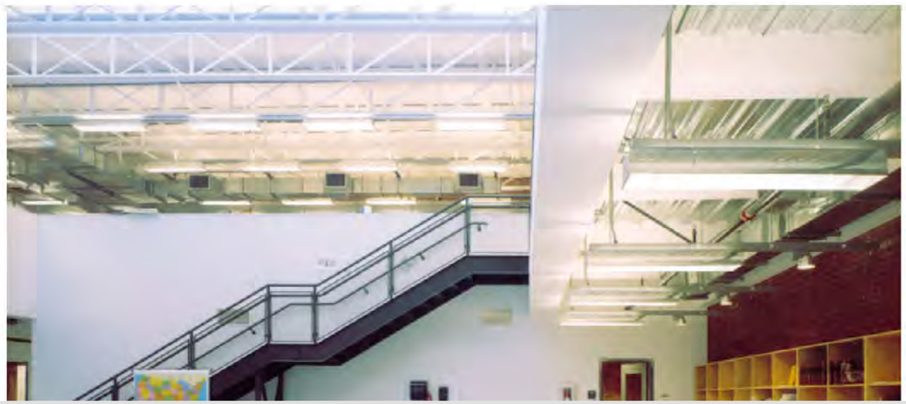

Other Means designed the school's new website around that duality, using two typographic styles. Timely content is set in Univers, a typeface that represents the idea of modernity. Timeless content is set in Yale, a typeface Matthew Carter designed for the school, rooted in its typographic history.

Menu

YALE SCHOOL OF ART

The Yale School of Art opened its doors on October 15, 1869, becoming the first art school affiliated with a university of higher learning in the United States. Today, the graduate student experience is centered on each artist's own studio practice, supported by faculty, visiting artists and critics, and perhaps most importantly, by one another, as they develop a personal studio practice. The school offers rigorous MFA programs in Graphic Design, Painting/Printmaking, Photography, and Sculpture, fostering a community of critical dialogue and creative exploration.

Previous 1 of 3 Next

CALENDAR

				1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31

WEATHER

Mostly sunny 70°

ARTIST LECTURES

Marc Jacobs: Fashion, Art, Life

Tonight

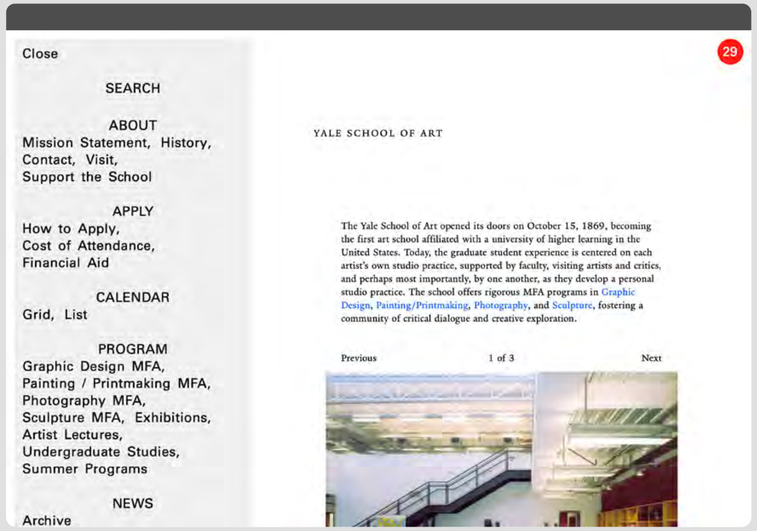

FASHION, ART

2019

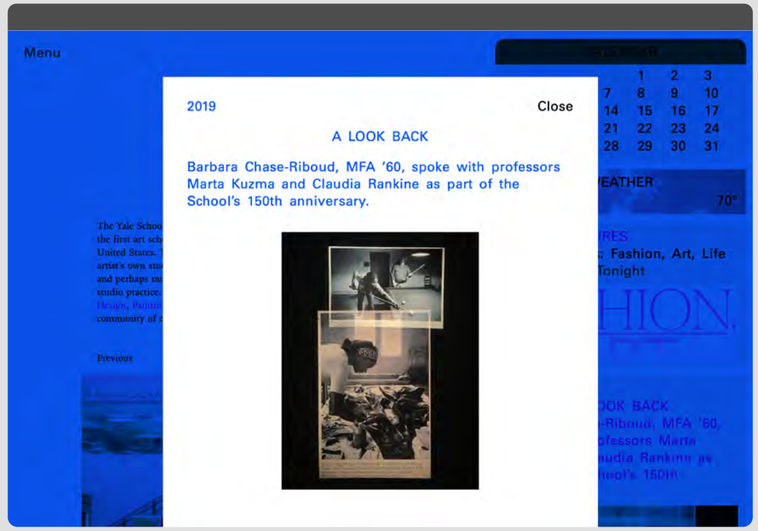

A LOOK BACK

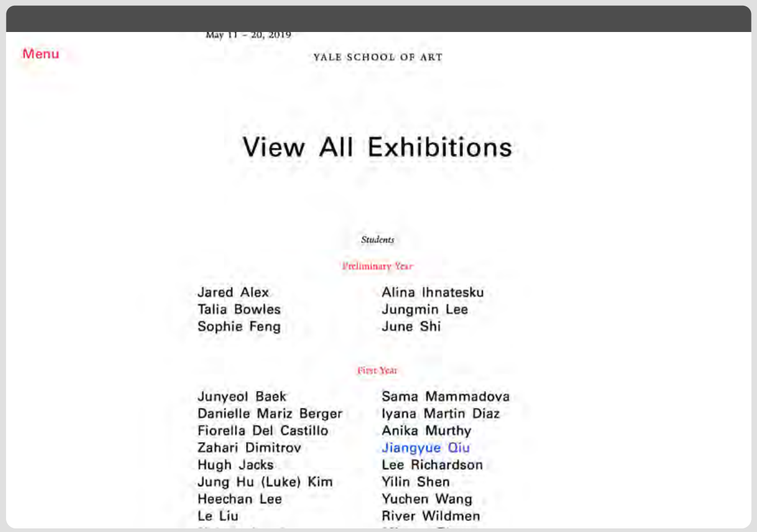

Barbara Chase-Riboud, MFA '60, spoke with professors Marta Kuzma and Claudia Rankine as part of the School's 150th anniversary.

Close SEARCH ABOUT
Mission Statement, History, Contact, Visit, Support the School
APPLY
How to Apply, Cost of Attendance, Financial Aid
CALENDAR
Grid, List PROGRAM
Graphic Design MFA, Painting / Printmaking MFA, Photography MFA, Sculpture MFA, Exhibitions, Artist Lectures, Undergraduate Studies, Summer Programs
NEWS Archive
29
YALE SCHOOL OF ART
The Yale School of Art opened its doors on October 15, 1869, becoming the first art school affiliated with a university of higher learning in the United States. Today, the graduate student experience is centered on each artist's own studio practice, supported by faculty, visiting artists and critics, and perhaps most importantly, by one another, as they develop a personal studio practice. The school offers rigorous MFA programs in Graphic Design, Painting/Printmaking, Photography, and Sculpture, fostering a community of critical dialogue and creative exploration.
Previous
1 of 3
Next

Prev
Oct 2026
Next
List View
Close
Sun
Mon
Tue
Wed
Thu
Fri
Sat
1
Artist Lectures
Teresa Baker with Margaret Ewing
1 of 3
2 Exhibition
Overcurrent
1 of 2
3 Exhibition
Overcurrent
1 of 2
4 Exhibition
Overcurrent
1 of 2
5
Artist Lectures
Marc Jacobs: Fashion, Art, Life
1 of 4
6
MFA Crits
MFA Crits in Photography
1 of 4
7
Community Events
Community Lunch
1 of 3
8
Artist Lectures
Natural History in Antique Stereoviews IN 3D!
1 of 2
9
Artist Lectures
Sabrina Tarasoff
1 of 2
10
Exhibition
Roma Publications 1-524
1 of 2
11 Exhibition
Roma Publications
12 Exhibition
13
MFA Crits
14
Town Halls
15 Receptions
16 Exhibition
17 Exhibition
Open Call Group
Filter by: Category, Event Type, Department, Audience

Menu
2019 Close
A LOOK BACK
Barbara Chase-Riboud, MFA '60, spoke with professors Marta Kuzma and Claudia Rankine as part of the School's 150th anniversary.

Menu
YALE SCHOOL OF ART
View All Exhibitions
Students
Preliminary Year
Jared Alex
Talia Bowles
Sophie Feng
Alina Ihnatesku
Jungmin Lee
June Shi
First Year
Junyeol Baek
Danielle Mariz Berger
Fiorella Del Castillo
Zahari Dimitrov
Hugh Jacks
Jung Hu (Luke) Kim
Heechan Lee
Le Liu
Sama Mammadova
Iyana Martin Diaz
Anika Murthy
Jiangyue Qiu
Lee Richardson
Yilin Shen
Yuchen Wang
River Wildmen

Menu
YALE SCHOOL OF ART
Close
CONTENTS
I: The Origins of Yale School of Art
1832–1871
II: The Curriculum Expands
1908–1962

14 of 16
Close

Visual Identity

Art Direction, Garment Labels, Hang Tags, Illustration

Shade is a sports brand rooted in simplicity, function, and the belief that the natural world has the answers we're looking for. Shade creates high performance activewear using natural fabrics.

I worked with the founder of the brand, Miraj Patel to develop the visual identity and art direction of the brand.

Shade

Shade
Body
TENCEL 65%
COTTON 35%
Hand wash when possible or machine wash cold. Air dry flat when possible or tumble dry on low. Iron at low temp. Do not bleach. Do not dry clean.

Shade

Visual Identity: Hang Tags

Shade

TYPE

Skir

SIZE

0 (1) 2 3

MATERIALS

Cotton (Elastane)

NUMBER

16/

Skirt

ALTERATIONS

1 Crop length

ool

Hourglass (2024 Thesis Exhibition)
Designed with Ken Zhao
Exhibition Identity

Yale School of Art Photography is the Photography Department of Yale's MFA program. Each year, the students commission two designers to create the identity for their thesis exhibition.

During every crit, the department keeps time with an hourglass filled with purple sand. We created type out of purple sand.

HOURGLASS
Yale MFA Photography
Thesis Exhibition
April 27 – May 4, 2024
AVION PEARCE
PATRICIA VOULGARIS
WHITNEY KLARE
ANDINA MARIE OSORIO
JAROD LEW
PAT GARCIA
TANNER PENDLETON
TORRY BROWN
SHELLI WEILER
DARBY ROUTTENBERG
Yale School of Art
1156 Chapel St, New Haven, CT
Green Hall Gallery
127 Gallery PUSH TO OPEN

PATRICIA WHITNEY ANDINA MARIE
JABOD

Yale MFA Photography Thesis Exhibition April 27 – May 4, 2024

HOURGLASS

AVION PEARCE
PATRICIA VOULGARIS
WHITNEY KLARE
ANDINA MARIE OSORIO
JAROD LEW
PAT GARCIA
TANNER PENDLETON
TORRY BROWN
SHELLI WEILER
DARBY ROUTTENBERG

Yale School of Art 1156 Chapel St Green Hall Gallery

Whitney Klare

1 Activating the Machine (Self Portrait, 2022-2024)
2 Denial in Putnam, 2022
3 Minnie Makes a Picture, 2023
4 Uncle Bob, 2023
5 Nightmare in Daylight, 2024
6 Rayniel with Rabbit, 2023
7 Wanting, 2024
8 Decay of Memory (Self Portrait, 2022-2024)
9 Trash Dreams, 2022
10 Open Dump Dinner, 2022
11 This Cow Is Alive, 2022
12 Kellie, 2022
13 Leona, 2022

Patricia Voulgaris

14 Untitled, 2024
15 Names and Witnesses, 2024
16 It Really Isn't That Far Away, 2024
17 Found Drawer, 2024
18 Beach Babe, 2024
19 Incantation for Pain, 2024
20 Bubbles, 2024
21 Self Portrait as Devil, 2024

Andina Marie Osorio

22 Bendicion, Dios Te Bendiga (From left to right)
Untitled (la madrina), 2024
Untitled (la mujer), 2024
Untitled (la mujer negra), 2024
Untitled (la nena), 2024
Untitled (el nene), 2022
Untitled (el marinero), 2024
Untitled (el soldado), 2024
Untitled (la confirmación), 2023
Untitled (la bruja), 2023
Untitled (ibeji), 2023
23 I'm so glad you're here (an assemblage), 2024
24 Untitled (Titi Esther's TV Reminded Me Honey Bees Are Lesbians), 2024
25 Untitled (Bee Study #2), 2024
26 Untitled (Bee Study #3), 2024
27 Untitled (Bee Study #4) 2024

Darby Routtenberg

28 Mr. Gay America, 2024
29 Mx. Universe, 2024
30 Miss Fat America, 2024
31 Miss Dyke America, 2024
32 Miss Connecticut Plus, 2024
33 Raelene at home, 2023
34 Raelene (Day 2 of Pageant), 2023
35 Raelene Rose, 2023
36 Raelene (Day 1 of Pageant), 2023
37 She needs a glass of wine, 2023
38 MISS PLUS AMERICA, 2023

Avion Pearce

39 untitled (stairway), 2024
40 untitled, 2023
41 Armando's paradise, 2023
42 Tamara, Clinton Hill, 2023
43 untitled, 2024
44 Crown heights, luxury apartment, 2024
45 Cricket, Crown Heights, 2024
46 Zazie, 2023
47 Ellington, 2023
48 Bleeding hearts and Night blooming jasmine, 2024
49 Portal, Port Antonio, Jamaica, 2023
50 Beam, 2022
51 D, Camera obscura 1, Crown Heights, 2023
52 Ellington, Crown heights, 2022
53 Caravan, The Aggresives, 2023
54 Clinton hill, 11:00 pm, 2023

Tanner Pendleton

55 untitled, 2024
56 untitled, 2023
57 untitled, 2024
58 untitled, 2024
59 untitled, 2024
60 untitled, 2024
61 untitled, 2024
62 untitled, 2024
63 untitled, 2024
64 untitled, 2023
65 untitled, 2024
66 untitled, 2023
67 untitled, 2024
68 what does marble think when it's being sculpted, 2024

Pat Garcia

69 (From left to right)
El Diablito, 2024
Black Pearl/Portrait of Jenny, '91, 2024
Orange Sherbert , Tattoo Our Names on Each Other, 2024
Blue Dream/Patrick Behind the Wheel, 2024
Las Jaras, 2024
Red Kandy/Kern county fair '96 Group Photo, 2024
Pink Kandy/'64 Impala, '63 Buick Riviera, 2024
Silver Flake/The Last Day We Were Together, 2024
La Dame, 2024
70 (From left to right)
El Valiente, 2024
Green Kandy/ Kern County Fair '96, Family Photo, 2024
Burnt Orange, Wedding Cake, 2024
Pearl White/Wedding Day, 2024
La Rosa, 2024
Lemon Yellow Flake/Patrick Holding Daughter, 2024
Cotton Kandy Blue/ 82' Monte Carlo, Portrait of Jenny, 2024
Emerald/Jenny Expecting, 6 months, 2024
El Corazon, 2024

Shelli Weiler

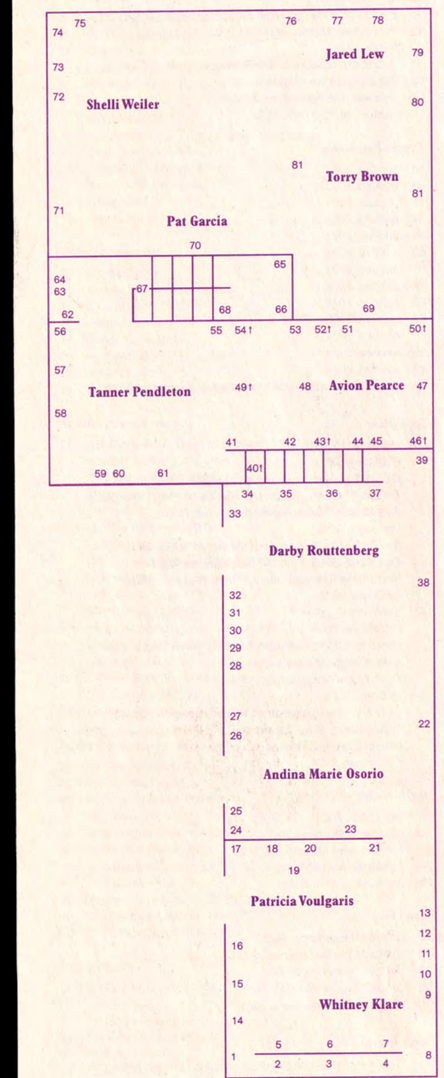

71 Car Crash, 2023
72 Lulu Neck Stabbing, 2023
73 Baby Shower Miscarriage, 2023
74 Cake Mausoleum, 2023
75 Anonymous Star, 2023

Jarod Lew

76 Untitled (Fingertrap), 2023
77 Untitled (Shutter Release), 2023
78 Untitled (Karaoke), 2023
79 Untitled (Henry and Me), 2023
80 Untitled (Self Projection), 2024

Torry Brown

81 "This chair will break before the screen – I hit my head and forgot how to dream.", 2024

Becoming Chinatown
Designed with Kaming Lee
Conference Identity

The University of Colorado Denver Architecture Department commissioned an identity for “Becoming Chinatown,” a conference that considered the architecture of Chinatowns across the United States.

The identity uses three typefaces we often saw in New York City’s Chinatown: Times New Roman, Cooper Black Light, and Arial. The system emulates wheat-pasted posters that layer and erode over time.

BECOMING CHINATOWN
Talks and Performances
on Possible Futures
Hosted at the University of Colorado Denver with additional support from History Colorado and Colorado Asian Pacific United February 27
March 13
April 10, 2025

(Re) IMAGINING
Chinatown
April 10
2025

Xiaoxi Chen
Columbia University
Lily Wong
University of Miami
Linda Zhang
University of Waterloo
Moderated by Leyuan Li
University of Colorado Denver

Xiaoxi Chen
Columbia University
Lily Wong
University of Miami
Linda Zhang
University of Waterloo
Moderated by Leyuan Li
University of Colorado Denver

(Re)
Chinatown
April 10
2025

Chinatowns in the United States are diminishing. Hindered by social biases and political injustices, the multicultural and multigenerational communities in Chinatowns, such as those in Manhattan and Philadelphia, face the persistent threat of displacement due to political unrest, racial discrimination, and relentless gentrification. These challenges have even led to the erasure of some of the historically prosperous Chinatowns, including the one in Denver, which was considered the largest in the Interior West and is nowadays largely forgotten by the public. Marked by conflicts over labor, immigration, culture, race, and identity, the future of Chinatowns remains caught in a constant influx of environmental, social, and political dissonance that destabilizes the prospect of a healthy, shared community for the constituencies inhabiting within. What are the possible futures for Chinatowns amidst gentrification emergencies and collective crises, particularly in cities where Chinatown is no longer a physical reality but endures in more conceptual forms? What novel

(Re)organizing Chinatown
February 27, 2025

This panel brings together four community organizers and activists to discuss the challenges and opportunities involved in organizing events and programs that address socio-political injustices while enhancing the cultural identities of Chinatowns across the United States. Focusing on various placemaking efforts, such as interactive kiosks, historical markers, block parties, and community-led exhibitions, this discussion will explore the strategies used by community organizations to engage diverse constituents in advocating for a vibrant future.

Panelists
Sophie Chien, Joie Ha, Yin Kong, Bz Zhang

Moderator
Samantha Martin

Sophie Weston Chien is a designer-organizer.

She is a practitioner and an educator who builds community power through social and physical infrastructure to ensure people can shape their own spaces. She views the disciplines of design and the roles of designers as sites of continuous self-construction. Sophie's practice draws on her training as an architectural and landscape designer, planner, and political organizer. This work integrates her experience in the built environment with writing, textile art, and graphic design. As a designer-organizer, her work builds spatial and social relationships.

Sophie is a Chancellor's Postdoctoral Fellow and Lecturer at the University of Colorado Boulder, Environmental Design Program. She is one-half of the collaboration just practice, a leader in the Design As Protest Collective and Dark Matter U. Multi-racial and liberation-oriented, her work with these collectives aims to infiltrate institutions in order to proliferate anti-racist design methods and research.

Joie Ha is the daughter of refugees and has been an organizer for minority communities in Colorado for over 15 years. She holds a B.A. in Anthropology and an M.A. in Development Practice, focusing on holistic mental health treatment for Vietnamese refugees. Joie has served in Malaysia as a Community Development Officer and in Cambodia as a researcher regarding how hip-hop can create fictive kin for youth. Joie currently serves as Executive Director for Colorado Asian Pacific United, which works to unearth, elevate, and preserve little known Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander (AANHPI) narratives, and is on path to opening the first AANHPI history and culture museum in the Rocky Mountain region.

Yin Kong 孔海音 is a community-based designer and curator living and working in Manhattan's Chinatown. Think!Chinatown is the culmination of her work in urban design, museum, culinary & cultural instruction, and community engagement. Previously an Urban Curator of the Dashilar Project, she consulted a municipal agency of Beijing on urban revitalization strategies in the city's historic hutong core. She also spent time teaching at the Black Sesame Kitchen in Beijing and onboard Semester at Sea. She loves sharing Thomas Jefferson facts which she picked up at her time working at Monticello. Yin holds a Masters of Architecture, Urban Design from the Bartlett School of Architecture, University College London and a Bachelors of Arts, Urban Studies from Columbia University. Her work has been presented at the Venice Biennale of Architecture 2016 and the Shenzhen Biennale of Architecture 2007 & 2009. In 2019 she was a fellow of both the New Museum's IdeasCity and Coro's Neighborhood Leadership programs. In 2020 she was a David Prize finalist.

Bz Zhang 张崩 is an architect, artist, organizer, and educator from Lenapehoking (纽约 New York), 安徽 Anhui, and 山东 Shandong, currently based in Tovaangar (洛杉矶 Los Angeles). They are a core organizer with the Design As Protest Collective and Dark Matter U, a member of the LA Chinatown Community Land Trust, and a project manager with the Los Angeles Neighborhood Land Trust, where they work with communities toward environmental justice through design, construction, and stewardship of public green spaces. Their design and research practice wonders aloud about representations of violence and the violence of representations by asking questions both using and about disciplinary tools of art and architecture. Bz is a licensed architect in California with degrees from UC Berkeley and Brown University.

Samantha Martin is a graduate of Wright State University with a MA in Public History. She joined History Colorado in 2023 as the Temple Buell Associate Curator of Architecture. Samantha is responsible for collecting, preserving, and sharing contextual materials that tell the unique story of Colorado's built environment.

Sophie Weston Chien: DMVLabors. 2022. Photo credit: Shawbin Rezaiferd

Joie Ha: Playa Festival, 2022. Image courtesy Colorado Asian Pacific United.

Yin Kong: Block Party organized by Think!Chinatown. Photo credit: Cindy Trinh

Bz Zhang: Study from In Case of Fire 六一六区, digital collage. 2021. Reference: Sunbeck Fire Insurance Map From San Rafael. Marin County, California. 1889.

Fresa Salvaje is a queer dance party based in New York. I make quick Instagram posters for each party.

Music Pollito
Creepitona
Cata Cositas Chupacabras Live Performance
Nikael
Fresa Salvaje
Ceviches
Giuli y Pat
Visuals
Render Me Softly
June 13, 7pm-2am, 21+
Sunset Stoop, 4114 5th Ave, Brooklyn, NY

FRESA SALVAJE
Baladas, boleros, y bailoteo
POLLITO
CISNESINKITTY
arte á la venta
PAPA CON BABA
Sunset Stoop
4114 5th Ave
Brooklyn, NY
Saturday
August 15
8pm–2am

YR ABCSs (2023 Thesis Exhibition)
Designed with Andrew Connors
Exhibition Identity

Yale School of Art Sculpture is the Sculpture Department of Yale's MFA program. Each year, the students commission two designers to create the identity for their thesis exhibition.

The cohort wanted an identity that had no "idea" besides the title of the show, "YR ABCSs," which comes from the initials of the participating artists' names. We focused on emphasizing this acronym by making it large.

YALE SCHOOL OF ART
2023 SCULPTURE MFA THESIS
Stephen Lordan, Younes Kouider,
Bailey Connolly, Camilla Carper,
Anat Keinan, SR Lejeune
GROUP 2: MARCH 27–APRIL 2

YA
2023 S
Stephen
Bailey C
Ana GROU

Stephen Lordan

1 7 7 1 X 9 (Inculcation Variations)
tarpaulin, rack unit, bells, hard cases, eggs, calamine lotion, salt, water, books, glass case, soap, dulcimer, vibrating anal beads, modular frames, desiccated egg, dried pomegranate, found box, glass vessel, small sphere, operations dice, antennae, tuning forks, wasp nest, surgical tool disinfector, teeth, synth, road case, ceiling tile speakers, steel bowl, goat's milk, number game pieces, (dead egg bath)

Younes Kouider

2 The bride of the rain
weaving, perfume, poetry

Bailey Connolly

3 L is for Landscape (her pussy, x-ray)
L is for Landscape (her pussy)
L is for Landscape (her asshole)
L is for Landscape (her nostrils)
L is for Landscape (her mouth)
XPS foam insulation, various papers, wood

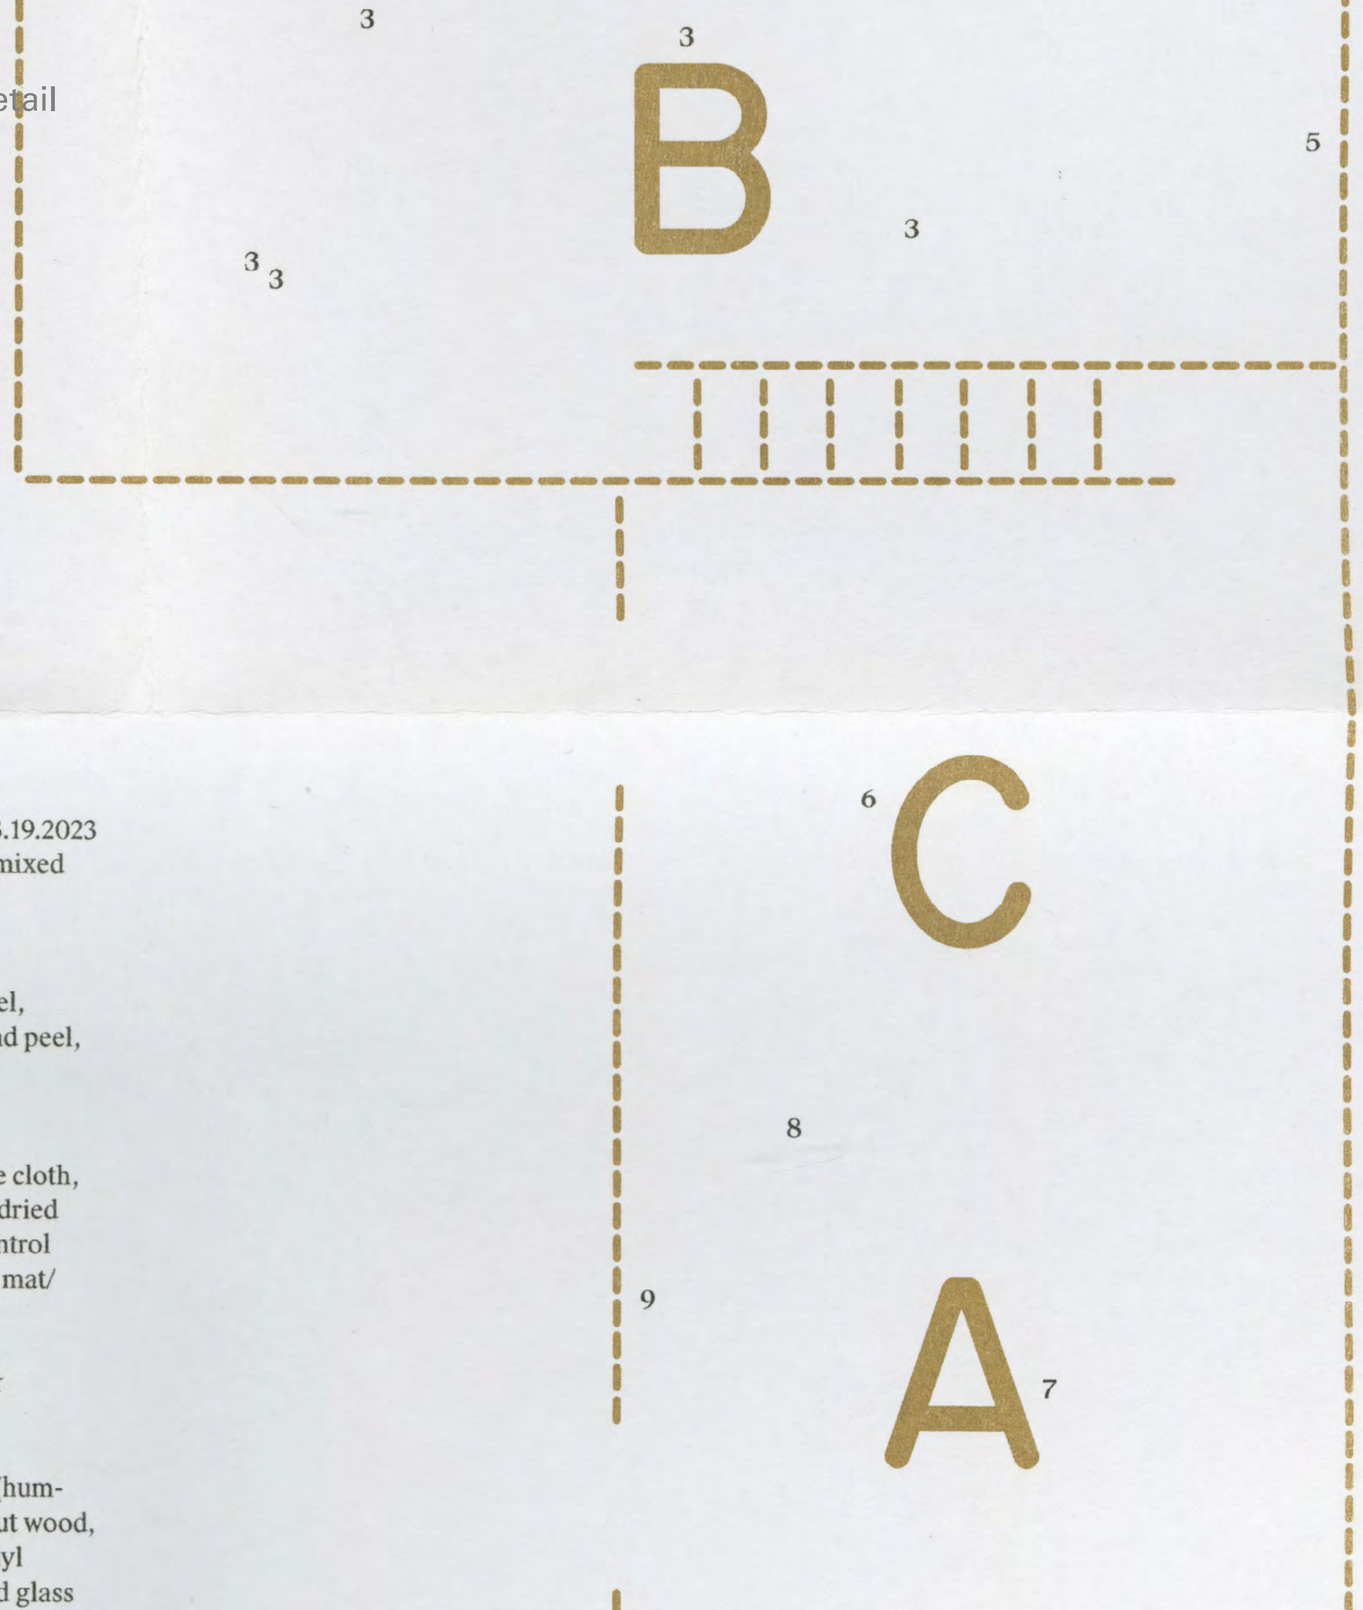

Signature Color A/W 2022–2023
all colors worn from 09.22.2023–03.19.2023 matched with screen print ink and mixed daily, trend forecasting bucket

Composition Brick held compost (egg shell, orange peel, coffee, banana peel, avocado pit and peel, glycerol, potato starch, agar agar)

Treatment Facility
Ikea trash, Pigozzi wood, hardware cloth, class 2022 free pile, held compost, dried food, Reset Control tape, Reset Control middle day paint, NYFW changing mat/ handbag, intimates, glass brick

Outside-in - Guest House - Shoe Box
dollhouse trash, held compost

other materials: released compost (hummus), house paint, my closet, Peanut wood, wood wood, Ann Mailey edges, vinyl siding, projector, sound tube, bifold glass

Yale School of Art Sculpture

YR ABCSs: Exterior Vinyl

Contact

mail@juliocorrea.com
(361) 726-8622